

«Umweltbewusste Gesundheitsversorgung in der Schweiz», Positionspapier der SAMW

«Des soins de santé respectueux de l'environnement en Suisse», prise de position de l'ASSM

Prof. Dr. med. Nicolas Senn

At this conference we will present the roadmap «Health Services within planetary boundaries». This roadmap aims to propose a global strategy to rethink health services in the light of the significant environmental degradation they cause.

The roadmap is composed of seven proposals, which are as follows

- 1) Strengthening the commitment of citizens, communities and institutions to accelerate the socio-ecological transition;
- 2) Rethinking the definition of health by including natural environmental determinants;
- 3) De-(bio)medicalisation and re-socialisation of health;
- 4) Developing a new paradigm for sustainable medicine and care;
- 5) Promoting alternative approaches to care and taking environmental issues into account in clinical practice;
- 6) Promoting sustainability efforts in health care institutions and
- 7) Training and raising awareness of environmental sustainability issues among health professionals.

At the conference, we will address these proposals by giving concrete examples for each of them.

Nicolas Senn

ist Chef des Département Médecine de famille an der Unisanté Lausanne VD und Co-Autor des SAMW-Positionspapiers.

est chef du Département Médecine de famille, Unisanté Lausanne VD. Il est co-auteur de la prise de position de l'ASSM.